Action Taken to Aid Other Districts at Clearing House MeetingGrape men of the sixteenth district, California Vineyardists association, will ship only 40 per cent of their modified filed car requirements during the present week, a cut from 407 cars to 164 cars.This decision was reached today at a special meeting of the sixteenth district clearing house committee, called by Charles Latimer, chairman, to consider a request from northern growers for a complete shutdown for one week.Growers and packers present took the stand that since this district has to date complied 100 per cent with the recommendations and requirements of the C.
V. A., and that since the request for the shutdown came not from the association, but from a group of Fresno grape men, including not a few "outlaw" growers and packers who have to date ignored recommendations to hold down shipments and hold up quality, and are now anxious to "save their own hides," the request for a shutdown here was unjust and uncalled for.Inasmuch, however, as the California Vineyardists association has since approved the move of the Fresno growers, James Bariotti, secretary of the Italian Vineyards company, moved that this district shut down the week not to exceed 40 of the modified car requirements and the motion was adopted unanimously.It was stated at the meeting that the promiscuous shipping by northern packers of large quantities of inferior white grapes was chiefly responsible for the present glutted condition of the eastern markets.L. A. Weller, prominent Upland grower and packer, expressed the opinion that this district was in no way called upon to pull out of a hole growers and packers who have been chiefly responsible for present serious conditions.MANY CHANGES IN

TO BOOST HOOVERMrs. Porter Describes Life of Candidate Before Large Ontario GroupAt the Hoover rally and dinner meeting held at Hotel Ontario last Thursday evening, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, in her splendid talk, "Hoover, Our Candidate," told of her recent visit to Hoover's home in Palo Alto on the day of his acceptance speech. Here she met both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover informally and was greatly impressed with the qualities and abilities of Mrs. Hoover and the perfect attitude of equality existing between husband and wife.Mrs. Porter called the attention of her hearers to the fact that Herbert Hoover is not only the greatest candidate put forward in this country for the presidency, but that his wife, Lou Henry Hoover, has capabilities as great as her husband and if she becomes mistress of the White House all women will find in her a leadership and an example well worthy of emulation.Mrs. Porter received an ovation when she was introduced by Miss Lois LeBaron Avery, who told in detail of the various high honors bestowed on her during her long and useful life and the high place she holds in club work and Republican circles.The spirit of the Hoover rally was an enthusiastic one from start to finish and each speaker and entertainer number was thoroughly enjoyed. Delegations from Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Upland, Ontario and Pomona were present to carry the message back to their respective communities that the women all over Southern California were rallying together to work and vote for Hoover; the candidate who has stated "that the participation of women in politics means higher political standards."During the dinner hour a pleasing group of songs were given by William Seguin, accompanied by Miss Delahoyde. Mrs. Edna Andres, of the San Antonio school, led the community songs most successfully; campaign verses set to familiar airs and written by Miss Nellie E. Kelley, of Republican headquarters in Los Angeles, and one of the guest speakers present.
The opening number, a patriotic procession of young women who would vote for the first time on Nov. 6th, thrilled the audience when they marched in decorated with streamers of patriotic colors and singing "America, the Beautiful." Those from Upland assisting in this number were the Misses Elvira and Dorothy Ruth and Miss Helen Goodrich.Others from Upland taking part in the program were Mrs. Laura Taylor Kelley, Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mrs. Lillian Baxter and Mrs. Elise of 17 representative men and women in the Presbyterian church.The permanent organization will consist of representatives of the Business and Professional Womclub, and the Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's association, American Legion, Legion Auxilcording to action taken at the meeting.The leader of each group will be asked to make a careful selection of a person to act permanently, year after year, thereby making the organization more effective.A secretary may be employed part-time to direct the work and keep the records during the period of raising the money.The meeting last night was informal, with L. R. Bradley acting as chairman. Most of the civic organizations were represented. Advisability of establishing a "community chest" organization was considered, but the group voted it down.Approximately $2,000 is needed annually to carry on the boys' and girls' activities and to handle the emergency welfare work in the community, according to R. H.

Henderson, an active worker in the welfare projects.Lex Lucas, Scout executive for this territory, was also present and told of the boys' and girls' work and the necessity of having a permanent group.Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor of the Presbyterian church, said, "We have an ideal community for the training of the boys and girls—the mountains, the ocean and the resorts. What we need here is an organization to take advantage of these benefits and give the boys and girls the proper outdoor training."UPLAND BOOSTING

Mehl Anniversary is Fine Event

"I truly believe that this is the most beautiful ceremony that has ever been staged in our new church," said Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the First Mennonite church, as he delivered the speech of felicitations at the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Mehl.The Mennonite church was a blaze of light and elaborately decorated with masses of golden blossoms for the auspicious affair, which was held Saturday evening and attended by 250 people.Rev. Mr. Hostetler, speaking further, said that the occasion was an unusual one and extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mehl the good wishes and love of the church membership.Mr. Mehl, in responding to the minister's gracious talk gave a brief outline of the things he said he had learned during the last fifty years, and gave as his version for the success of the beautiful venture the faculty of being able to see the other side of the question, and a God-given sense of humor, which he said Mrs. Mehl shared with him.

First Mennonite Church

Mrs. Mehl's talk was the good mother's talk, for in naming the outstanding incidents of the past fifty years, the birth of her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren occupied the foreground.Rev. Elmer Grubb of Los Angeles, who was formerly in charge of the Mennonite church here, also gave a brief talk and during the evening members of the women's quartet and the men's quartet sang several beautiful numbers fitting for the lovely occasion.Later members of the Woman's Missionary Society and the S. O. Circle invited the guests to the banquet room, where a delicious supper was served, and where Mrs. Mehl cut the golden bride's cake.Mr. and Mrs. Mehl were presented with a pair of lovely candlesticks, a gift from the church members, and many other lovely remembrances were presented to them. There were present for the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Mehl's five children, thirteen of their grandchildren and the three great-grandchildren.Editor Crombie Allen Of Bodner figuring in the lineup.

TODAY'S BIBLE TEXT

An exhortation—O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.—Isa. 2:5.

Al Smith and the Dry Catholics

We are wondering how Al Smith is going to square himself with the vast body of "dry" Catholics in this country, many of whom have cast their lot with Herbert Hoover.

Rightly or wrongly Smith has been taking the position that he is a martyr, suffering from the actions of intolerant people because he is a Catholic. Rightly or wrongly, a lot of people are getting the impression that the Catholic church is a unit in backing Smith and he is in a sense a Catholic candidate. Of course, that is all wrong, and a man's religion should have no bearing on his fitness for holding the presidency.

Smith is running for the presidency on the platform of "wetness." He is against prohibition and wants the Volstead act modified. Everyone who is following the campaign knows that Smith's wet appeal is his capital stock. His Milwaukee speech is just like his others, only more frank, as one would expect in the former brewing city. Smith broke down national dry enforcement in his own state, and he is willing to see some states dry and some states wet—an impossible theory.

Now, just what would happen if Smith should be elected (and there is a slight chance of it) and if he should start to make the United States half wet and half dry? His election would be hailed far and wide as a victory for the Catholic church. This would be an exceedingly hard position for his church. The Catholics would get blamed for the whole prohibition mix-up. It must be remembered that there are thousands upon thousands of dry Catholics in this country. They are as bitterly opposed to Smith's nullification doctrine as are the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists. Thousands upon thousands of Catholics are Republicans and will be for Hoover.

Yet in the event of the election of Smith, their church will be blamed for whatever happens in the councils of the Democratic party. That would certainly be an unenviable position. High leaders of the Catholic church are said to have been not over-enthusiastic over Smith's candidacy even months ago, for fear of the very thing that has happened—that the church would be regarded as Smith's official backer, which it certainly is not. What they think now can easily be imagined.

Dr. Henry C. Culbertson, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church at Los Angeles, gave Smith something to think about when he said in his sermon Sunday:

"For many years I have done everything in my power to promote good will between Catholics and Protestants and among all creeds and faiths of all who love Jesus Christ and are seeking to find God. Whether we agree in doctrines or not, we all have one common purpose and one common Savior, and whatever hurts one branch of the followers of Jesus hurts the others also.

"In this spirit, I say that the election of Gov. Smith as a Catholic would be a major calamity to the Catholic church in our country. Every fault or failure of his administration would be blamed on that church, together with the tremendous odium of having shared in lowering the public ideals and standards of our nation on the question of drink. I earnestly hope that some prominent Catholic prelates will come out at this strategic moment so strongly against Smith on this issue that for a generation no one will dare question the good faith and high ideals of their great church."

SALVAGE SHOP TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

Local Citizens Are Asked to Provide Articles For the Store

Members of the Salvage Shop committee are once again reminding their friends that the little store will be open Saturday, October 6th, at the same place just south of the P. J. Smith cigar stand on Second Avenue.

And once again they are reminding their friends that without co-operation there can be no Salvage Shop.

Very few donations have been received to date, and Upland and Ontario housewives are asked to scour attic and cupboards for materials for the store. The people of this community are well acquainted with the workings of this center, and they understand that the little shop fills a two-fold purpose—that of helping the San Antonio Community hospital fund and that of helping the needy of this town. Once again the public is reminded that no donation is too small or too large for the Salvage Shop to handle. Have you a white elephant, workers at the shop know of a circus where they can dispose of the animal; have you a worn-out tractor, the women know of a generous citrus grower who just dotes on worn-out tractors; or have you just a package of safety pins, the workers know a batchelor who will gladly buy them. So there you are! No matter what your donation is it will be gladly accepted and the women can turn the materials into money that will be applied on the hospital debt.

Just four days left till Saturday, and the Salvage Shop is badly in need of merchandise so let's get busy and see that the little store is well stocked on the opening day.

Junior High Squad Plays at Chaffey

Football players of the Upland junior high school today tasted the first flavor of battle in a practice meet with the "Pleasants" at Chaffey union high school. Twenty suits have been issued to the gridiron hopefuls, and under the tutelage of James A. Paulin, junior high school teacher, and "Mugs" Mitchell, Chaffey coach, the squad is showing possibilities, their games are planned for the players, Mr. Paulin said.

SHOW AT COLONIAL

Hist, boys and girls—what do you know about it! The Upland Colonial theater is going to stage a real honest-to-goodness dog show—that is, they are going to furnish the theater, members of the Lions service club are going to furnish the prizes and all you have to do is go out in the highways and byways (that's what the Bible calls it) and get the PURPS. Easy, isn't it? And, just think, you might get a silver cup or sumpin'. Now, isn't that fun?

The dog show will be staged in connection with the moving picture film, "The Hound of Silver Creek," which will feature the matinee, and we have it straight from the theater management that no DOG, pedigreed or otherwise, tailed or cur-tailed will be barred. So there you are, fellows. Get out and get the dogs, and then let's watch the Lions and the dogs have fun.

J. P. Bert Celebrates Birthday Anniversary

A gleaming question mark, indicated by lighted candles, on J. P. Bert's birthday cake informed the guests that he was celebrating a birthday anniversary, but beyond that he wouldn't tell—and it was his birthday.

But Mrs. Bert knew all about it and she was hostess at a beautifully appointed dinner in honor of the occasion. The affair was held at the Bert home, 563 Third Avenue, and a profusion of beautiful fall flowers made a lovely setting for the party.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock. A lovely centerpiece of ferns and snapdragons, in which the golden bronze tones were emphasized, added a festive air to the table appointments, while dainty confection cups gave the further smart touch. The meal was a merry affair, and among those enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bert of Corona, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myron and their two daughters, Helen and Blanche, of Los Angeles; Miss Ethel Bert, who has recently arrived here from Grantham, Pa., and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bert.

Nichols Family Enjoy Week-End Outing

The fireman's cabin in the San Antonio canyon was the setting for a charmingly quiet week-end party, when Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brewster and their two children, Margaret and Darwin, spent the week-end there.

The Upland people motored to the mountains on Saturday and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Nichols and their small son joined the group. The mountains are unusually beautiful at this time of the year and the outing was greatly enjoyed.

Fire Laddies Enjoy Dinner at Cabin

"Hail, hail, the gang's nearly all here," sang the eighteen firemen last evening when they met at their cozy club house in the San Antonio canyon for a delicious dinner and evening of cards—and when Wesley Plum of Santa Monica and George Bunker of Ontario, who belong to the department, and were the only ones missing, heard about the good time the fellows had well, they'll know they missed something. Glenn Atwood and F. H. Manker were in charge of the "eats," and with the assistance of the C. C. Danner bakery they turned out a feast that was fit for a king.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and was followed by an evening of cards, and among the firemen present at the happy affair were Glenn Atwood, F. H. Manker, Hubert Manker, Robert Klindt, E. C. Mehl, L. N. Kirk, Harry Plum, Charles Deverts, G. A. Brest, Amos Colborn, I. J. Link, Al Ledig, W. C. Cline, Enos Leaman, Clyde Duncan, C. K. Francisco, Milton Huxtable, Bruce Moore and B. C. Nichols.

Norton Cabin Scene Of Happy Affair

Meeting for the first time since the summer vacation, members of the Pioneer Embroidery club were happily entertained one day recently by Mrs. R. C. Norton, the affair being staged at the Norton cabin in the San Antonio canyon.

The hostess and her guests motored to the mountains at an early hour and at noon a delicious luncheon was served.

An attractive basket of deep yellow zinnias marked the center of the table, while dainty acorn ladies indicated the covers.

The afternoon was informally spent and among those enjoying the outing were Mrs. A. L. Palis, Mrs. S. G. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Bordwell, Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, Mrs. R. R. Harrington, Mrs. J. E. Sargent, Mrs. Grace Paulin, and Mrs. E. C. Mehl.

Birthday Celebration For Mrs. M. J. Roberts

Complimenting Mrs. M. J. Roberts, who celebrated a birthday anniversary on Sunday, members of her family and a group of invited friends motored to Ganesha Park, Pomona, for the day.

Leaving Upland at eleven o'clock the party reached the park in ample time for a delicious noon dinner, a lovely birthday cake aglow with lighted candles holding the place of honor in the center of the long table. Later they all motored to the Kellogg ranch, west of Pomona, where an interesting hour was spent admiring the beautiful Arabian horses.

Among those coming to wish Mrs. Roberts "many happy returns of the day" were, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Spicer and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Severn, of Lennox, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Spicer of Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Spicer and baby daughter, Beverly, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Draper and Paul Spicer of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dellinger and their son, Hollis, of Pomona, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roberts of Van Nuys.

Business Women Meeting Tonight

One might almost say that "Business" will be the keynote of the meeting this evening, when members of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club meet for dinner at the Davis cafe.

Mrs. Edna Swan, the president, will preside and the various chairmen will tell of their group activities. Miss Lillian Roth and Miss Fern Carver, members of the financial committee, who are planning a picture show and program to be given in the very near future, will report on their work, as will Mrs. Charles Allen and Miss Nell Atherton, who were recently appointed captains of the membership drive.

Miss Clara Bissell, secretary of the Chaffey Girls' Work, will be one of the speakers of the evening, and Ted MacLaren will present several vocal solos. Wes Henzie will be the accompanist for Mr. MacLaren, and he will also play for the community singing. Following the program games will be introduced, and among the hostesses who are assisting Mrs. Swan are Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Mrs. A. J. Colgan, Mrs. S. M. Jesup, Mrs. L. R. Nichols.

Mrs. Ross Entertains For Grandson

We are willing to admit in this day and age that it isn't very often that any parent can stage a complete surprise party on a precocious nine-year-old boy. But that is just what happened on Saturday when Mrs. D. M. Ross entertained a group of little boys in honor of her grandson, Malcolm Ross, ninth birthday anniversary. The delightful party was held at the Ross home, 548 Second Avenue, and the affair was one long to be remembered.

After sending Malcolm on an errand, Mrs. Ross hurriedly summoned the guests and when the young man returned the party was on in earnest. Brilliant decorations in which the Halloween motif predominated added a festive touch and Malcolm was the recipient of many lovely birthday remembrances. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Ross served delicious refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake, and among those who came to help Malcolm celebrate were: Raymond Watkins, Landon Bailey, Bobby Chambers, Junior Woltman, Jack Creighton, Billy Hayman, Kenneth Rusk and Keith Ross.

Legion Auxiliary Will Elect Officers

Election of officers will feature the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary that is to be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Legion home on Second Avenue.

At this time, officers for the year 1928-29 will be chosen and the present plan is to have a brilliant joint installation meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary officers later in the month.

Three years ago the members of the Upland auxiliary "adopted" Miss Ella Tully, a disabled war nurse, who is at the San Fernando hospital, as their own particular nurse, and during the year the unit as a whole and many of the individual members extend many loving courtesies to the brave young woman who did her "bit" over there. Recently Miss Tully made and sent to her "foster mothers" a beautifully tooled auction bridge set and this will be auctioned off at Thursday evening's meeting. The money derived from this source will be used to further the welfare work that is a vital part of the unit's activity.

chartered a bus and left Upland this morning at 9:30 o'clock for a delightful day at San Marino, where they plan to visit the Huntington Art gallery and library, that has again been opened to the public.

Members of the Entre Nous club had planned for many months to give themselves this "treat," and they invited a number of guests to share the pleasure with them.

True to the feminine instinct that is so strong in every woman, well-filled lunch baskets occupied a conspicuous place in the bus, and the women plan to spend the noon hour at Brookside park, Pasadena, where they will enjoy a picnic lunch.

Among the two members in the party this morning were Mrs. G. A. Eckerman, Mrs. Alice Erickson, Mrs. Gus Anderson, Mrs. W. H. Andrews, Mrs. W. H. Tuttle, Mrs. F. B. Harn, Mrs. Miles Harnley, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, Mrs. Walter Hilly, Mrs. C. C. Cromer, Miss Mina Ruesink and several invited guests.

Miss Ann Beall Clark, director of religious education at the First Methodist church, made a very effective substitute on Sunday morning for the pastor, Dr. Jas. A. Stavely, absent at the conference at Santa Barbara. Miss Clark gave an inspiring talk in which she made an eloquent plea for greater attention to the children and young people of the church. In them lies the hope of the future of the church and any sacrifice made for them will be richly returned in later years. Rev. Joshua Bacon was in charge of the service and an unusually large choir of regular members and young people furnished the music.

Travelers Speak at Presbyterian Church

Rev. John Cobb Worley, superintendent of the "Pathfinder Tours," and Mrs. Worley, were in charge of "Conference evening" at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, when members of the Methodist Episcopal church were special guests. Dr. Worley represents the Missionary Educational Alliance which comprises the Foreign Missionary Board of some 30 denominations and for years he and Mrs. Worley were missionaries in Japan.

As superintendent of the "Pathfinder Tours," Mr. and Mrs. Worley have taken parties to Japan, China, the Philippines and the islands of the Pacific, and at present they are completing their plans for their fifth tour of the Holy Land.

During their many travels Mr. and Mrs. Worley have taken many beautiful pictures, and these were used to illustrate the address that the travelers gave. Dr. Worley chose for the evening's topic "The Holy Land," and beautiful pictures showing the voyage up the Nile and at different points throughout the Holy Land were flashed on the screen. These pictures were often interspersed with some of the famous old paintings of the masters, such as "Christ and the Rich Young Man," "Christ in the Temple," Nazareth and the Bethlehem scenes.

During the evening members of the Young People's choir of the Presbyterian church sang such songs as "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old," and many others.

Al. Smith's Column

Edited by Upland Democrats

(Editor's Note—In order to give local Democrats a chance to give their side of the political argument, The Upland News has opened this column to them. All that is under this heading is edited by and vouched for by Upland Democrats.)

Upland Democrats Honored
Formation of a Smith-Robinson club for Upland and Ontario has attracted many Upland Democrats, with two local residents being selected for officers. The group, organized last Friday, will meet every Friday night in the Hotpoint factory, Ontario. Mrs. Fern Telly Bush is the Upland secretary and H. O. Blohm, local realtor, is treasurer. Other officers are D. D. McDonald, president; W. V. Combs, Ontario secretary; and Miss Mamie Goddard, Ontario, secretary.

DRY TO WORK FOR SMITH
Declaring that the position of Herbert Hoover is "vague and amiable," Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, in a letter to Frank L. Polk, head of the Smith College League, consented to serve as vice chairman of that body, and pledged himself, although a severe dry, to vote and work for the election of Governor Smith. He expressed the opinion that Governor Smith, if elected, would enforce prohibition "with ruthless common sense" as long as the law remains in force, and expressed distrust of the Republican intent with regard to dry enforcement. He praised the executive ability of the Governor, declaring that he ranks with Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson in his ideals and his democracy. While he disagrees with the governor's stand on prohibition, he says he respects his motives and admires his open-mindedness.

"Alfred E. Smith is the leader of the Democratic party, chosen in convention assembled with unusual unanimity," Dr. Alderman writes. "He is fit to be the leader of such a party. No man can deny that by character, ability and experience he belongs of right in the great tradition of Democratic leadership, exemplified by Jefferson and Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson. The spirit of liberalism, instead of cautious standpatism, guides his action. He is not a pussyfoot or a soft peddler, but a challenger of things as they are, seeking after new solutions of difficult problems, a new and formidable personality in American public life.

ROTARIANS HEAR VOCATIONAL TALK

Vocational service had the right-of-way today at the regular meeting of Upland Rotarians. President Chas. V. Barr presided and Richard Manley, head of the vocational committee, had charge of the program.

Dr. A. L. Weber gave a very thoughtful and helpful paper, "What Vocational Service Means to Me." Stating that service was the biggest word in Rotary, he warned against hypocrisy of Rotarians in preaching one thing and living another. High points stressed by the doctor were that service must be friendly, sympathetic, unselfish and timely.

Three very interesting short talks brought the program to a close. Geo. McCrea of Ontario spoke on his recent trip to North Dakota; Paul Hofer told of the "grief" that the grape men have been suffering this season; while by way of contrast L. R. Bradley said that the lemon growers had had their best year in history although there had been a break in prices recently that was not so good.

Lions Entry at Fair Brings City Much Publicity

Upland, and especially the Upland Lions club, gained widespread attention as the result of the club's exhibit at the Southern California fair at Riverside last week. Citrus fruit, artistically arranged by a special Lions committee, formed the display, and it is reported to have received more comments and attention than any other display in the division.

Norman Lawson, Floyd Atwood, Ray W. Flickinger and F. W. Williams formed the committee that created the entry. The citrus fruit was taken from Upland and following a definite plan the exhibit was made distinctive. Mr. Lawson and Mr. Atwood devoted more than a day to arranging the lemons and the setting.

Two Names Omitted in List of Firms

In compiling names of business firms for the directory that appeared in the booster edition of The Upland News last Friday, two omissions occurred. Dr. Claude P. Mengle, an optometrist in this city for eight years, and the Miller & Jones garage on Tenth street, were the victims of the mistake. A determined effort was made to include the name of every business firm in that edition, but these two names were unintentionally omitted.

Comes 9,000 Miles to Attend Chaffey

Nine thousand miles of travel to attend Chaffey is the record of Herbert L. Caldwell, who registered this morning in the senior class. He brought his credentials from the International College of Smyrna, Turkey.

Caldwell's father has been a teacher in that college for thirty years and is spending this year on Sabbatical leave in this county. Today was the first time that a student has offered credits in the Turkish language at Chaffey. The college at Smyrna is known to Upland people by the fact that Raymond Moremen was a teacher there and helped to save hundreds of orphans during the destruction and burning of the city.

Caldwell is registered in the senior class and plans to attend Yale university after his graduation from Chaffey.

Yes, sir, her name is Ila Louise, and she was born Sunday at the San Antonio Community hospital. The wee Miss, who weighed 8 lbs.

5 ounces, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, and reports from the hospital are to the effect that mother and baby are doing nicely; further reports state that she looks just like her father and Mr. Hall says he selected the baby's name.
